

TARGET AUDIENCE

The institute is open to holders of a university degree above or equal to a Bachelor's degree in law or in social sciences, without distinction of nationality.

LANGUAGES

ICALDE training is provided at the choice of the learner in one of the following languages: English, Spanish and French.

TRAINERS

- Teachers and researchers of a very high level, from diverse legal cultures, recruited from all continents
- Assistants and tutors for synchronous and asynchronous tutorials

TRAINING PROCESS

- ICALDE mobilizes digital technologies to make learning available without moving learners.
- ICALDE provides personalized support for students through online tutorials.
- The study cycle is organized in four semesters, distributed over two years. It specializes in critical thinking, analysis, synthesis, management of public affairs and policies influencing the right to education.
- Scientific content and pedagogical approaches take into account the various conceptions of sustainable development, in order to adapt ICALDE training to contemporary needs: integral and useful education for development.

OPPORTUNITIES

ICALDE-trained managers will be a first-class resource for national and international Governmental and Non-Governmental Organizations specializing in the development and conduct of educational policies. They are high level lawyers who can accompany public authorities in the processes of promotion and defence of fundamental rights.
